higher education & training

Department:
Higher Education and Training
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

NATIONAL CERTIFICATE (VOCATIONAL)

ENGLISH FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE
(First Paper)
NQF LEVEL 4

(4101124)

5 March 2019 (X-Paper)
09:00–12:00

This question paper consists of 17 pages.

NCV

Copyright reserved

TIME: 3 HOURS
MARKS: 180

INSTRUCTIONS AND INFORMATION

1. This question paper consists of FIVE sections.

   SECTION A: COMPREHENSION
   SECTION B: PRÉCIS
   SECTION C: VIEWING
   SECTION D: LANGUAGE IN PRACTICE
   SECTION E: COMMUNICATION IN PRACTICE

2. Answer ALL the questions.

3. Read ALL the questions carefully.

4. Number the answers according to the numbering system used in this question paper.

5. Leave a line open between answers.

6. Start each section on a NEW page.

7. Plan your time carefully.

8. Write neatly and legibly.

NCV

SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1

Read the passage below and answer the questions.

PHELOPHEPA – SOUTH AFRICA'S TRAIN OF HOPE

1. In the rural communities of countries with limited resources, healthcare clinics are often scarce. Many people have to travel long distances to access even the most basic healthcare for themselves and their families.

2. Transnet Limited, South Africa's biggest state-owned transportation and logistics company, saw the need to provide access to basic healthcare services. In 1993, they provided three coaches to be used as a clinic that travelled across the country offering only eye care to rural communities.

3. The name Phelophepa is derived from Sesotho and Setswana and it means 'good, clean health'. It began operating as a full-scale mobile primary healthcare clinic in 1994. Phelophepa brings together many diverse stakeholders from the private and public sectors. Transnet has involved business in its activities. The dental clinic, for example, is partly sponsored by the Colgate Palmolive Company – the multinational helped to pay for dental chairs, x-ray units and other equipment. There are usually 75 tickets distributed to those in the queue for dental care on a first come, first served basis every day, and procedures cost only R10.

4. One of its kind in the world, the Phelophepa hospital train has 18 coaches and a dedicated staff of passionate professionals. The healthcare staff includes close to 40 student volunteers preparing for careers in a variety of health-related fields. While Phelophepa is still in the station, healthcare workers engage in a number of outreach programmes. A chief professional nurse and two final year nursing students visit primary schools suggested by the Local Organising Committee. The resident optician and a student also visit primary schools and check on pupils who may need onboard services. A dental educator and a final-year dentistry student offers oral hygiene education – and toothpaste. An Aids action programme is focused on providing training dealing with the condition.

5. South Africa's second state-of-the-art clinic on wheels, Phelophepa II, hit the tracks in 2012, equipped with the latest medical and information technology. The second train operates simultaneously with Phelophepa I in providing vital health care. Individual counselling and group workshops are provided. These workshops enable people to cope with stress and depression.

Copyright reserved

6. The trains currently travel 38 weeks a year and are only able to visit most of the communities on their route once. It is therefore important that the positive effects of the trains last for much longer than the short while for which they stop at each station. As a result, there is strong emphasis on education and empowerment. People are taught basic healthcare and hygiene and how to manage minor ailments. Residents at each stop play a major role, so when the train leaves the station, it leaves a legacy. Some are trained in healthcare education outreach, visiting schools and old age homes. Others are tapped to join a Local Organising Committee to meet with key stakeholders to prepare for the train's visit. Their task is to identify schools, retirement homes and other places that need visits from the Phelophepa healthcare workers to check on their vision and dental needs. Members of the committee also make sure the station is ready to receive the train and that the community knows it's coming.

7. Dr Lynette Coetzee, the driving force for Phelophepa, says, 'The health services that we offer on board the train are only part of the story. The broader mission of Phelophepa is that its message and its good work will continue, that healthy individuals will build healthy families and communities, and that healthy communities will build a healthy nation.'

[Adapted from www.roche.com/phelophepa and www.trainofhope.org]

1.1 Explain why the title is appropriate in relation to the article. (2)

1.2 What is the purpose of the above text? (1)

1.3 Refer to paragraph 1.

Describe 3 challenges that people in rural communities face in getting health care. (3)

1.4 Indicate whether the following statements are TRUE or FALSE. Choose the answer and write only 'true' or 'false' next to the question number (1.4.1-1.4.2) in the answer book. Motivate your answer by quoting from the passage.

1.4.1 Community members do not pay any money for dental care. (3)

1.4.2 Only professional nurses treat primary school children. (3)

1.5 Quote a line from paragraph 2 that demonstrates that not all healthcare services are provided. (2)

1.6 What claim is the healthcare system making by naming the train 'Phelophepa?' (2)

Copyright reserved

1.7 Refer to paragraph 3.

'Phelophepa brings together many diverse stakeholders from the private and public sectors.'

1.7.1 What does the word 'diverse' mean in context? (1)

1.7.2 What does the word 'stakeholders' mean in context? (1)

1.7.3 Explain why it is essential to bring the private and public sectors together. (2)

1.8 Refer to paragraph 4.

'While Phelophepa is still in the station, healthcare workers engage in a number of outreach programmes.'

1.8.1 Explain the significance of naming the programme an 'outreach' programme. (3)

1.8.2 'The healthcare staff includes close to 40 student volunteers preparing for careers in a variety of health-related fields.'

Comment on how such a programme is likely to benefit students. (3)

1.8.3 'One of its kind'.

Provide a synonym for the above. (1)

1.8.4 'Staff of passionate professionals'.

Provide an antonym for the word 'passionate.' (1)

1.9 Refer to paragraph 5.

'South Africa's second state-of-the-art clinic on wheels'.

1.9.1 What do you understand by the term 'state of the art?' (3)

1.9.2 Explain the expression 'hit the tracks'. (2)

1.9.3 Discuss the writer's reason for describing healthcare as 'vital.' (2)

1.9.4 'These workshops enable people to cope with stress and depression.'

Explain why you think people in rural communities are victims of stress and depression. (3)

Copyright reserved

1.10 Refer to paragraph 6.

What evidence is there in paragraph 6 that shows that Phelophepha aims not only to provide a service but also to educate? (3)

1.10.1 Describe 3 ways in which the community is involved in the project. (3)

1.10.2 'The trains currently travel 38 weeks a year and are only able to visit most of the communities on their route once.'

Considering the service that the train provides, why is it only possible for the trains to visit communities once? (3)

1.11 Refer to Paragraph 7.

What do you think is the role of society in ensuring that the mission of Phelophepa is made a reality? Explain your thoughts in detail. (3)

[50]

TOTAL SECTION A: 50

SECTION B: PRÉCIS
QUESTION 2

Write a précis of the article below in not less than 75 words and not more than 85 words.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Write a paragraph of TEN facts on why the writer believes that technology will never serve as a substitute for teachers.
- Provide a heading DIFFERENT from the one used in the original text.
- Use your own words. You will be penalised for copying facts verbatim from the passage.
- DO NOT exceed the number of words stated above.
- Indicate the number of words you have used in brackets at the end of the précis.

WHY TECHNOLOGY WON'T BE ABLE TO REPLACE TEACHERS

1. With South Africa needing 25 000 new teachers annually, it is tempting to try to imagine that technology might be able to plug this gap. According to Masennya Dikotla, CEO of the Molteno Institute for Language and Literacy, this would not only be impossible but also disastrous for education.

2. Dikotla claims that technology is a tool that can enable more effective teaching and learning, but for it to be used to greatest effect, a competent teacher is invaluable. Just as the advent of books many centuries ago was no competition for teachers, technology should be viewed as an enhancer, and never a replacement.

3. Well-trained teachers are still needed to adapt their lessons to learners' needs and provide more comprehensive feedback to students – a factor that is essential to learning. Dikotla points out that we stop figuring out why a child does not understand when we use the products of technology as the only teaching tools.

Copyright reserved

4.	Moreover, it requires a person to appreciate another's characteristics and, therefore, the learning process might need to be adjusted for a child to grasp a particular concept. Dikotla says that a computer programme might be excellent at analysing test scores, but it can't take the human aspect into account. 'The internet can go down and systems can fail; but in my experience it is only a teacher who can properly mark an essay and talk to the student afterwards about the result.'
5.	It is also important to note that humans actively seek human contact. Children enjoy positive engagement with an adult: the ability to make eye contact and receive the warm encouragement of someone. This is the kind of input that makes all the difference when it comes to motivating a child. In addition, it takes human teachers to impart soft skills such as respect, communication, socialisation, interactive abilities and conflict resolution.
6.	'Computers cannot be passionate,' concludes Dikotla. 'They are merely a tool, and as teachers we show children how to use them to make their lives easier, but we cannot expect them to be the primary teachers themselves.'

[Source: Adapted from Education Southern Africa, Volume 7 No. 6, June 2013]

CONTENT	LAYOUT	GRAMMAR/ LANGUAGE/STYLE	TOTAL
10	3	7	20

[20]

TOTAL SECTION B: 20

SECTION C: VIEWING

QUESTION 3

Study the cartoons below and answer the questions.

3.1

[Source: Daily News Tonight, 16 May 2013]

3.1.1 Explain the reason for the use of the three dots (ellipsis) in Frame 1 and Frame 3. (2)

3.1.2 Refer to frame 2.

3.1.2.1 How does the cartoonist show that Mavis (the taxi driver) is upset? (2)

3.1.2.2 Why is Mavis upset? (2)

3.1.3 Explain how the cartoonist created humour through the use of a pun. (3)

3.2

HAGAR

FRAME 1 FRAME 2 FRAME 3

[Source: Google comic strips]

NOTE: In this cartoon, Hagar is the husband of Helga.

3.2.1 Refer to frame 1.

3.2.1.1 Give ONE word to describe how Hagar feels about getting leftover pizza for breakfast. Provide ONE visual clue to support your answer. (2)

3.2.1.2 Explain why the word 'PIZZA' is printed in bold. (1)

3.2.2 Refer to frame 2.

3.2.2.1 Why does the cartoonist make use of the three dots(ellipsis)? (1)

3.2.2.2 Explain what the reader thinks Hagar is implying by these words. (1)

3.2.3 Refer to frame 3.

3.2.3.1 Choose the correct answer to complete the following sentence.

Write down only the number and the letter you have chosen.

The cartoonist uses ... to create humour.

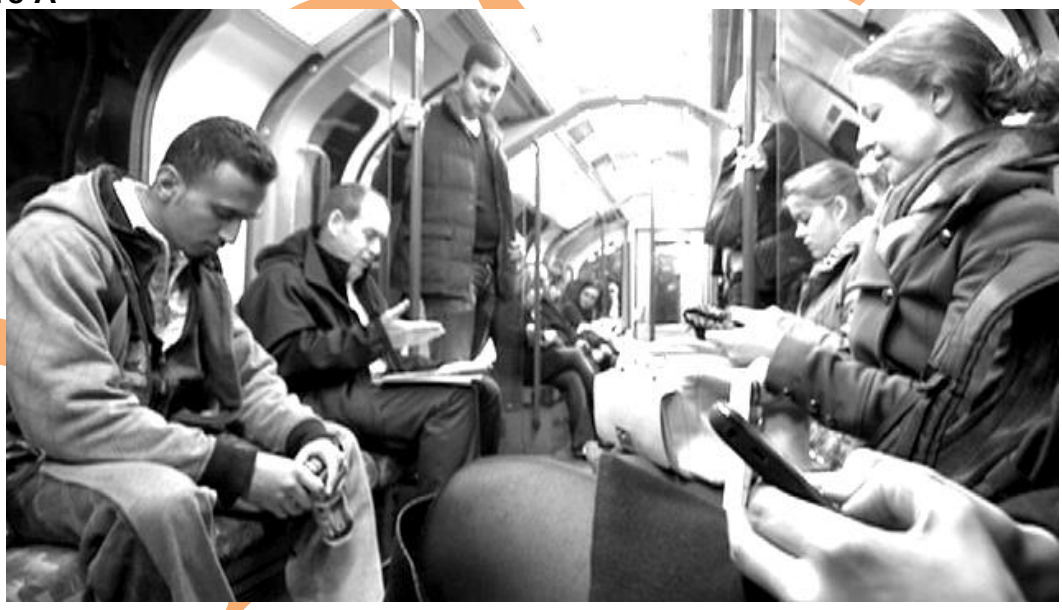

A sarcasm
B pun
C irony
D hyperbole (1)

3.2.3.2 Explain your choice in 3.2.3.1 above. (2)

3.2.4 What does Hagar's attitude towards having pizza for breakfast show about his eating habits? Explain your answer. (2)

3.3 Study both the pictures below and answer the questions.

Picture A

Picture B

3.3.1 What are people doing in Picture A and Picture B in order to pass the time? (2)

3.3.2 In which picture are the people more relaxed? Why do you think this is so? (3)

3.3.3 What does the body language of the people in Picture A suggest about them? (3)

3.3.4 What do both pictures suggest about people and communication? (3)

[30]

TOTAL SECTION C: 30

NCV

SECTION D: LANGUAGE IN PRACTICE

QUESTION 4

Read the passage below and answer the questions.

Skills for running a successful small business

1. Do you have the qualities to be a successful entrepreneur? What about your knowledge or skills? What are you expected to know in order to run a business (4.1.1 Punctuation…) It is worth (4.1.2 spend) time reviewing your skills because, unlike the majority (4.1.3 …) attributes, skills can be (4.1.4 learn) or acquired.

2. Good communication skills (4.1.5 …) required in all aspects of a business; communication (4.1.6 …) your customers, your suppliers (4.1.7 …) your staff. You need the skill to be able to put your message across (4.1.8 clear) so that people know exactly what you want from them. Good communication skills (4.1.9 …) come in the form of presenting your ideas logically, both verbally and (4.1.10 non…). Good communication skills also extend to understanding body language. The ability to read other people's body language can help give you that unfair advantage, which is what all business owners seek.

3. Sales marketing

   If you cannot effectively sell your product then you'll never achieve success! Customers rarely buy totally (4.1.11 …) impulse. They need encouragement and awareness that your product is ready to be (4.1.12 buyed).

4. Organising your life

   Running a small business involves one job after another. You must be organised so that your business runs efficiently. Being organised can (4.1.13 made) running your business easier and (4.1.14 much/more) profitable.

5. Finding and coping with staff

   Your skills will (4.1.15 …) to include being able to identify the type of person suitable for your business. After having identified potential candidates, another skill you'll need is how to be an effective (4.1.16 interview). You do not want to end up with the wrong person in your team.

4.1 Complete the sentences above by writing down the missing punctuation mark, preposition, conjunction, missing word, or the correct form of the word between brackets next to the question number (4.1.1–4.1.16) in the ANSWER BOOK. (16)

4.2 Change the following paragraph into the present tense:

Celebrity make-up artist Charlize Theron treated make-up lovers to a fabulous pamper session at her exclusive make-up event at Lonehill, north of Johannesburg. Her elegant setting was The Embassy's Plush Beauty Lounge, where guests were dazzled and indulged, and walked away inspired by the new trends. (4)

4.3 Change the following sentences into reported speech:

4.3.1 'My being in nature dampens down spikes in stress hormones which contributes to depression.'

Start as follows: Annie Pretty said …

4.3.2 Jason said, 'It took me years to develop this well-balanced diet.'

(2 × 2) (4)

4.4 Change the following sentence into the passive voice:

Every day the depressed man took a walk in the park.

Begin your sentence as follows: A walk in the park … (2)

4.5 Change the following sentence into a tag question:

He didn't always feel this way. (2)

4.6 Change the word 'argue' into an adverb. (2)

4.7 Provide the antonym of 'morality' by adding a prefix. (1)

4.8 Rewrite the following sentence in the negative form:

A well-balanced diet excludes vegetables. (2)

4.9 Change the following sentence into the past tense:

I experience an improvement in my mood after I complete an outdoor walk. (2)

4.10 Rewrite the following sentences and correct the error or errors in each:

4.10.1 Originally, my house were two small rooms, but now I has three. (2)

4.10.2 It might seem foolish to loose a bedroom if you are thinking of selling it. (1)

4.10.3 People always want larger rooms where they dont feel to cramped. (2)

[40]

TOTAL SECTION D: 40

SECTION E: COMMUNICATION IN PRACTICE

QUESTION 5

5.1 Study the television advertisement (Advertisement A) and the radio advertisement (Advertisement B) below and answer the questions.

Advertisement A (Television advertisement)

Advertisement B (Radio advertisement)

Are you hungry? Do you need food now? No time to prepare? I have the food you need for energy, vitality, taste and so much of it that you will feel as if it is coming out of your ears. Burgers and chips only 29.00.
Order now from lebo.food.co.za
Don't let your belly grumble… act quickly!

5.1.1 Identify one difference between a Television advertisement and a Radio advertisement. (2)

5.1.2 Which advertisement is likely to grab the reader's attention? Give a reason for your answer. (3)

5.1.3 Quote a line from the radio advertisement that instructs you to act quickly. (2)

5.1.4 What do you understand by the expression, 'belly grumble?' (2)

5.1.5 Explain the effect of the rhetorical questions in the radio advertisement. (2)

5.1.6 What does the boy's facial expression in the television advertisement suggest? (2)

Copyright reserved

5.2 Read the film reviews below and answer the questions.

LATEST FILM REVIEWS

Rating	Movie	Review	Critic
4/5	Beirut	"The horrors of Beirut in the grip of civil war are very well evoked by director Brad Anderson, and Bourne writer Tony Gilroy has produced an intelligent, plausible screenplay." Posted Aug 10, 2018 5:08 AM UTC	Brian Viner Daily Mail (UK)
2/5	The Darkest Minds	"I think its young target audience will feel a little short-changed." Posted Aug 10, 2018 5:08 AM UTC	Brian Viner Daily Mail (UK)
3/5	Unfriended: Dark Web	"As a scary modern fable, a kind of warped fairy tale, it is quite effective. A fairy tale, when you think about it, that's all about someone unwisely taking a byte of a poisoned Apple." Posted Aug 10, 2018 5:08 AM UTC	Brian Viner Daily Mail (UK)
1/5	The Meg	"The open references to Steven Spielberg's 1975 masterpiece act as an unwitting reminder that the evolution of the shark movie has gone backwards in 43 years, in every way but one." Posted Aug 10, 2018 5:08 AM UTC	Brian Viner Daily Mail (UK)

5.2.1 Name the most popular and the least popular film. (2)

5.2.2 Why will the cinema goer be attracted to watch the film 'Beirut'? (2)

5.2.3 Describe in your own words the critic's view of the film, 'The Darkest Minds.' (2)

5.2.4 Identify an incorrectly spelt word in 'Unfriended: Dark Web.' (1)

Copyright reserved

5.3 Read the following advertisements and answer the questions.

5.3.1 Nivea Sunscreen for kids allows kids to lie and play in the sun without the worry of looking like burnt lobsters. It helps prevent sunburn and skin cancer. It's tender on skin, but tough on sun rays. Let kids be kids this summer…

5.3.1.1 Identify the product that is being advertised. (1)

5.3.1.2 Who is the target audience? (1)

5.3.1.3 List TWO claims made by the advertiser. (2)

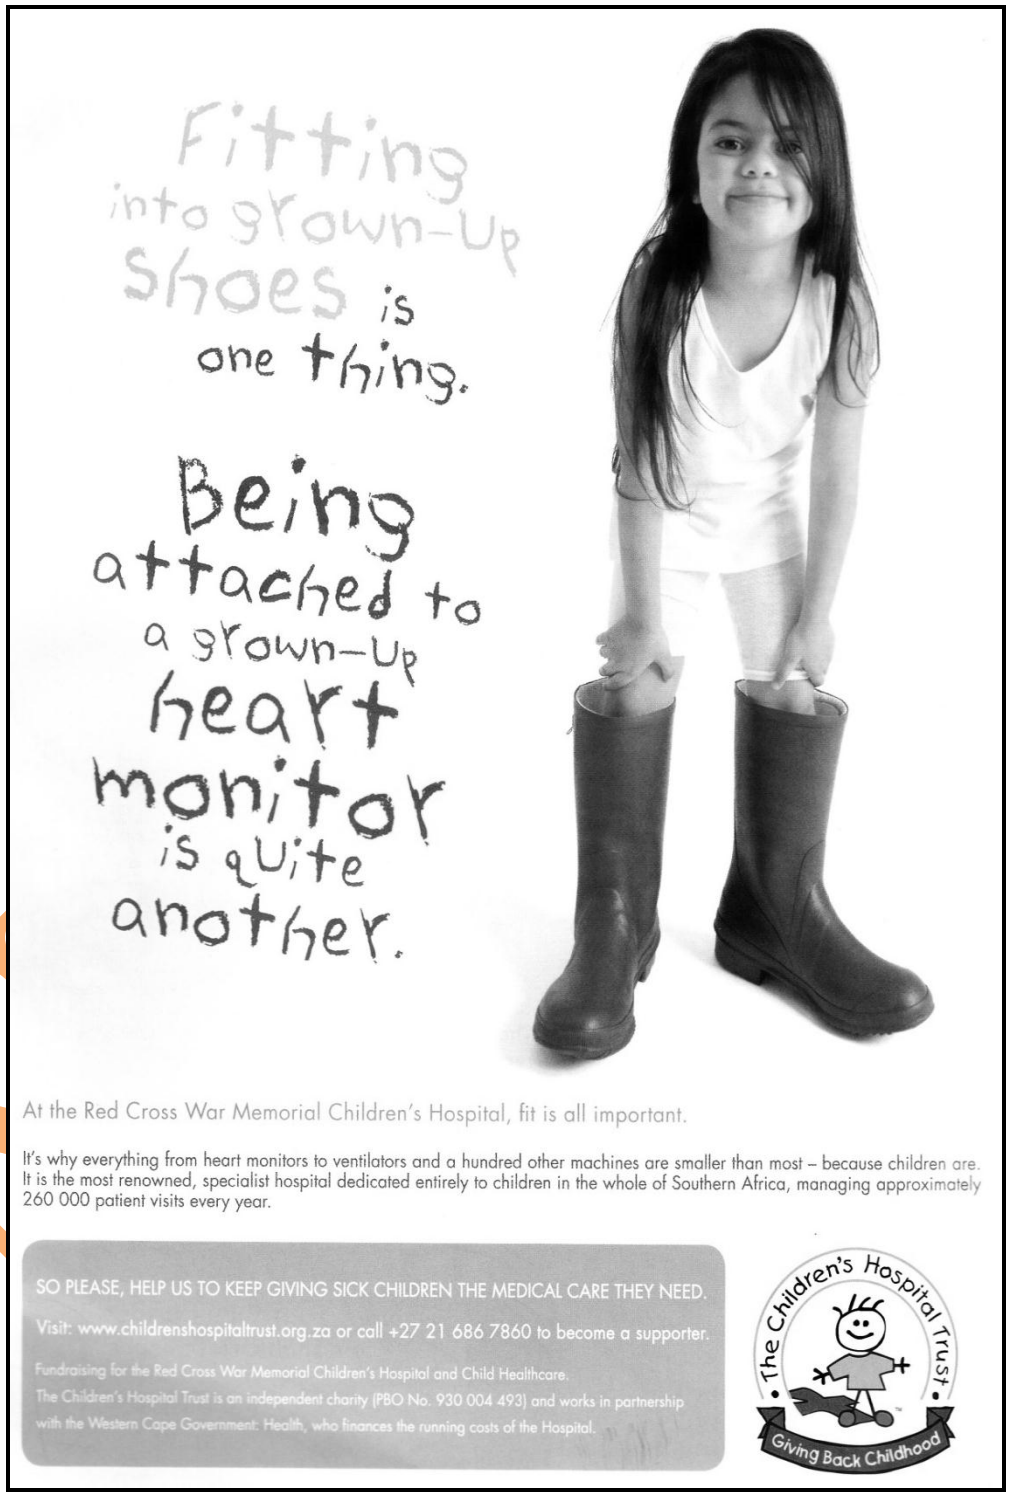

5.3.1.4 Do you think the setting of the sand castle is effective in supporting the product being advertised? Give a reason for your answer. (3)

5.3.1.5 Explain the effectiveness of the technique in the following statement:

'It's tender on skin but tough on sun rays.' (3)

Copyright reserved

5.3.2

The writing in small print reads: At the Red Cross War Memorial Children's Hospital, fit is all important.
It's why everything from heart monitors to ventilators and a hundred other machines are smaller than most – because children are. It is the most renowned, specialist hospital dedicated entirely to children in the whole of Southern Africa, managing approximately 260 000 patient visits every year.
SO PLEASE, HELP US TO KEEP GIVING SICK CHILDREN THE MEDICAL CARE THEY NEED.
Fundraising for the Red Cross War Memorial Children's Hospital and Child Healthcare.

5.3.2.1 What is the aim of this advertisement? (2)

5.3.2.2 Explain the effect of the advertiser's use of a child in the picture. (2)

5.3.2.3 'Fitting into grown up shoes is one thing. Being attached to a grown up heart monitor is another.'

Explain the point that the advertiser is making. (3)

5.3.2.4 Refer to the logo of the advertisement.

What does the advertiser mean when he says: 'Giving Back Childhood?' (3)

[40]

TOTAL SECTION E: 40
GRAND TOTAL: 180

NCV

Copyright reserved