QUESTION 6: CO-OPERATION AND CONFLICT ON THE FRONTIERS OF THE CAPE COLONY

Read Source C and answer the questions.

SOURCE C: The eastern frontier

In the late 1700s and early 1800s the eastern frontier of the Cape Colony lay along the Fish River. On one side lived Xhosa farmers. On the other side lived Dutch-speaking trekboers and, after 1820, British settlers. Both groups farmed cattle and needed good grazing land and water. They traded with each other – cattle, ivory and hides were exchanged for beads, metal and cloth – but they also raided each other's cattle. Between 1779 and 1879 nine frontier wars were fought.

6.1 Which river formed the eastern frontier? (1)

6.2 Which groups lived on each side of the frontier? (2)

6.3 Why did both groups need large areas of land? (2)

6.4 Name TWO goods the Xhosa gave in trade. (2)

6.5 Give ONE example of co-operation and ONE example of conflict from Source C. (2)

6.6 How many frontier wars were fought, and over what period? (2)

6.7 Who were the 1820 Settlers, and why were they settled on the frontier? (2)

6.8 On the northern frontier, which group was led by Adam Kok? (1)

6.9 Give TWO roles that missionaries played on the frontiers. (2)

6.10 How can learning about conflict over land on the frontiers help us to understand South Africa today? (1)
