higher education & training

Department:
Higher Education and Training
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

MARKING GUIDELINE

NATIONAL CERTIFICATE (VOCATIONAL)

BUSINESS PRACTICE
NQF LEVEL 3

11 MARCH 2019

This marking guideline consists of 9 pages.

Copyright reserved

SECTION A

QUESTION 1

1.1	1.1.1	D
	1.1.2	A
	1.1.3	B
	1.1.4	C
	1.1.5	B
	1.1.6	D
	1.1.7	D
	1.1.8	A
	1.1.9	A
	1.1.10	B

(10 × 1) (10)

1.2	1.2.1	D
	1.2.2	G
	1.2.3	J
	1.2.4	A
	1.2.5	I
	1.2.6	F
	1.2.7	B
	1.2.8	C
	1.2.9	E
	1.2.10	H

(10 × 1) (10)

1.3	1.3.1	False
	1.3.2	True
	1.3.3	True
	1.3.4	False
	1.3.5	True
	1.3.6	False
	1.3.7	True
	1.3.8	False
	1.3.9	False
	1.3.10	True

(10 × 1) (10)
[30]

TOTAL SECTION A: 30

SECTION B

QUESTION 2

2.1

Macro environment	One example of impact on Nombelu's business	An example of an opportunity it poses	An example of a threat it poses
Economy	Exchange rate/value of rand Inflation Recession	It can become attractive for overseas buyers if the value of the rand weakens If inflations decreases the buyer will have more money to spend.	If the value of the rand becomes stronger, overseas buyers might buy less. If inflation increases, the buying power of her clients decrease as the value of money gets less. If economy is in a recession phase, her customers will have less money to spend on clothes.
Technology	New improved needle work machines New computers	It may improve the speed of her production, resulting in the availability of more products to sell. She might have to employee less employees, dealing with less labour problems. Her administration may improve.	Costly exercise to replace machinery. She needs to train her staff to use the new machines.
Market environment	One example of impact on Nombelu's business	An example of an opportunity it poses	An example of a threat it poses

(12)

Competitors	Any other businesses selling the same type of clothes than her.	She may be the only business with a unique range of clothing, thus having hardly any competitors. She may serve a niche market – competitors may thus not be a threat.	Competitors can start copying her.
Suppliers	Suppliers of her material Suppliers of parts for her machines	She may have special contacts or an agreement with a printing material business to only supply to her a certain range of fabrics.	Late delivery by a specific supplier may delay the whole manufacturing process – especially if she is dependent on one supplier.

(12 × 1)

PLEASE NOTE: THE APPLICATION OF THE OPPORTUNITIES/THREATS MUST RELATE TO NOMBELU'S BUSINESS.

2.2 2.2.1 Open- ended questions: (any relevant answer)

For example
- What kind of traditional African clothing do you prefer?
- What else would you like to see in my shop?

(Please note: It must be questions that requires feedback – not just a 'yes' or 'no' and it must relate to Nombelu's business) (3 × 1) (3)

Closed questions (any relevant answer)

For example

- Would you be interested in buying material shoes as well?
- Are you satisfied with our current range?

(Please note: Type of questions that only requires a 'yes' or 'no' or where customer needs to choose one response – must relate to Nombelu's business) (3 × 1) (3)

2.2.2 Case studies
Observations
Content analysis
Focus groups (Any 3 × 1) (3)

2.3 2.3.1

Characteristic	Partnership	Sole Trader
Capital	2 – 20 people can contribute Can also contribute things like assets, expertise, etc.	Only the capital that one person can contribute or borrow.
Management	All partners can participate in management.	Owner or an appointed manager.
Profits/losses	Profits and losses need to be shared by all partners	Profit belongs to owner alone. Carries the loss alone.
Liability	Jointly and severally liable.	Sole responsibility

(8)

2.3.2 Any applicable name, but must indicate her business and must end with (Pty) Ltd (1)

[30]

QUESTION 3

3.1 3.1.1 Employees
(might also be that candidate list them, for example, seamstresses, sales persons, cashier, cleaners)
Managers (if she appointed managers)
Customers
Suppliers
Bankers
Can also be shareholders – if she is a private company any (3 × 1) (3)

3.1.2 Government
Municipality/local authorities
Professional body
Community
General public
Competitors
Pressure groups (like Green Peace) (Any 3 × 1) (3)

3.1.3 Create an organisational culture that appreciates teamwork/ reinforce the importance of teams/create a structure that rewards teamwork

Do not assume that everybody can work as part of a team/look for proven teamwork skills when appointing someone.

Make sure that the team knows the mission of the team.

Do not force those that prefer to work alone to join the team.

Train your team workers in skills such as technical, interpersonal and decision-making skills.

Allow your teams to work autonomously/give them freedom to work alone, to choose their own new members and to manage themselves.

Ensures that all the team members participate in decision-making.

Any (5 × 2) (10)

3.2 3.2.1
- Needles
- Pins
- Thread
- Machine oil
- Paper and cardboard
- Staples
- Files
- Pens and pencils
- Files (Any 4 x 1 relevant items) (4)

3.2.2
- The cost of labour to produce the clothes/goods
- The scarcity of the goods/material
- The desire or demand for the goods (3 × 1) (3)

3.2.3
- Advertising
- Sales promotion
- Publicity
- Personal selling (Any 3 × 1) (3)

PLEASE NOTE: NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH METHODS OF ADVERTISING

3.3
- Hours of work
- Leave
- Sick leave
- Maternity leave (where applicable)
- Remuneration
- Working hours
- Overtime
- Notice period
- Period of contract if applicable
- Date of employment
- Full name of employee
- Full detail of employer
- Place of work
- Deductions (Any 4 × 1) (4)

[30]

QUESTION 4

4.1 4.1.1 An interaction between two or more people
It constantly changes
It is competitive by nature.
It could have negative and/or positive elements.
It involves emotions.
It can be verbal or non0-verbal.
It is not always undesirable.
It can be managed and controlled. (Any 5 × 1) (5)

4.1.2
- Cultural differences
- Different values and attitudes
- Personality clashes
- Different levels of education, skills
- Different work standards
- Lack of trust (Any 2 × 1) (2)

PLEASE NOTE: Cannot be the following as they are on the same level:
- Different levels of power in the organisation
- Do not understand one another's job description

(Any applicable, correct application – also examples given)

4.1.3
- A high degree of interdependence between the kitchen staff and the waitresses
- The structure of the organisation (level on which they are)
- Allocation of resources (Any 2 × 1) (2)

(Any applicable, correct application – also examples given)

4.1.4
- A method used to try and satisfy both your own and the other person's concerns.
- Persons involved in the conflict, should have the same goal.
- Try to reach a win-win situation.
- Involves honest discussions, active listening and careful consideration of all options.
- Can be used when there are no time limits or pressures and the issue is too important to be compromised.
- Parties are assertive and cooperative. (Any 3 × 2) (6)

4.1.5 Stop and calm down
Discuss the issue
Brainstorm
Choose the solution
Implement the solution (5 × 1) (5)

4.2
- Your own productivity will improve.
- The productivity of the company will improve.
- You will have more time on hand.
- You will have more control over your work.
- You will be able to meet deadlines
- You will have time to check your work – thereby improving your accuracy.
- You will not feel swamped at work and thus will feel happier and less stressed. (Any 4 × 1) (4)

4.3
- Umalusi has been stablished to safeguard the public interest by maintaining and enforcing standards of training and ethics in their profession.
- They represent the interest of the teaching profession (teachers, lecturers) and here they act as a specialist association.
- Umalusi as professional body represents its own self-interest/it acts to maintain its own position as a controlling body. (Any 3 × 2) (6)

[30]

QUESTION 5

ANSWERS OF STUDENTS WILL BE ON THE ADDENDUM.

5.1 5.1.1 It is a process of helping new employees to get to know the organisation,√ the working environment √ and to make sure that these employees will be effective in their jobs.√ (3 × 1) (3)
(Any good explanation)

5.1.2
- All new staff members
- Staff members returning after an absence of more than three months
- Staff members who have been moved to a new position or a higher level or given more duties. (3 × 1) (3)

5.1.3
- The policy, procedures and rules of the organisation (for example, rules regarding leave, safety, absenteeism and dealing with discipline and grievances.
- The history products and/or services of the organisation.
- Practical arrangements in respect to compensation, for example, salary/wages, overtime payment, bonuses and fringe benefits.
- The structure of the organisation – the layout and order of the different departments or divisions in the organisation, which shows who the superiors and subordinates are. (4 × 1) (4)

5.1.4
- To avoid any unnecessary mistakes and accidents
- To ensure he is able to do his job effectively
- To make the organisation more productive
- To ensure the job is done to set standards
- To ensure that he clearly understands what needs to be done
- To build good relationships with co-workers that he will interact with (Any 4 × 1) (4)

5.1.5
- By allocating time in the induction programme to ask questions.
- By scheduling regular meetings to get feedback from new staff members.
- By appointing a mentor to assist and guide the new staff member.
- By observing the new staff member perform a trial run of his or her responsibilities.
- By asking the new staff member to complete a questionnaire or feedback form.
- Do testing to determine the understanding of the new employee.

(Any 4 × 1) (4)

5.2
- Replace worn and frayed electrical cords immediately. (12)

- Electrical cords should be placed so that people do not have to walk over them – do not route electrical cords under carpets.
- Do not pass electrical cords from one room to another through hinges of doors or windows where they can become squashed and damaged.
- Never disconnect plugs by pulling at the cord.
- Never connect electrical equipment to light sockets.
- Do not connect too many plugs to one socket.
- Always comply with the manufacturer's prescribed safety precautions that are provided with the equipment.
- Always disconnect the power supply at the mains switch when electrical equipment is repaired.
- Do not touch electrical equipment or plugs with wet hands.
- Do not wash electrical equipment with water. Switch off the equipment, remove the plugs and wipe it off with a dry rag.
- Always isolate the power supply when attempting repairs on electrical equipment.
- In order to comply with the law and safety regulations, always ensure that a qualified person carries out all electrical installations, repairs or extensions.
- Never try to put out a fire caused by an electrical fault by throwing water on it while the power is still on. First switch off the power at the mains switch, and then use a dry chemical fire extinguisher. (Any 6 × 2)

[30]

TOTAL SECTION B: 120
GRAND TOTAL: 150