QUESTION 5

Read the extract below and answer the questions.

Problem: A banking executive was returning to Canada on the red-eye and needed to depart the same evening for India. However, he did not have the necessary visa.

CIBT Solution: CIBT coordinated a plan with the traveller's secretary to collect the business letter, invitation, and photos that day and provided the traveller with the CIBT Airport Meet and Greet Service when his flight arrived the next morning at 08:00. The traveller signed his application form, turned over his passport to the CIBT travel visa and passport expert, and the documents were rushed to the High Commission for same-day processing. CIBT was able to collect the issued travel visa and deliver the passport to the executive's office before he left for the airport that evening.
